Introduction

Longmoor Group

Longmoor Group (LG) is recognised as the premier provider of quality security personnel and corporate security solutions worldwide. All consultants, operators and trainers have served with the British Army's Royal Military Police, UK Special Forces or the UK Police.

Longmoor Group is an expert International and Homeland Security Consultancy and Training company. The company is, in essence, four business divisions. Each area focuses on a different aspect of security to provide you with a complete security solution from one Group. Our credible experts, all of whom hold British Home Office or British Armed Forces qualifications in their specialist field, are responsible for delivering a tailored security consultancy or service that meets exactly with your business or personal needs.

Longmoor Group's wealth of experience in training and protecting both military and civilian personnel worldwide, coupled with an ethos of using only the finest personnel, means Longmoor Group are ideally positioned to offer the most practical and comprehensive solutions to your security needs.

LG's experienced team provides a wide range of security consultancy and training services.

The company was established in response to requirements from individuals and business wishing to broaden their horizons in the global market place. Africa, Asia, South America and the Middle East need no longer be viewed as restrictive zones and the training and services offered by Longmoor Group have been designed to instil confidence in these challenging markets.

About Us

Longmoor Group was founded by Chris Brice and Michael Hanley, both with over 38 years experience of the specialist security market. They have served in both the UK Royal Military Police and UK Police before spending a year in the Middle East as Close Protection Team Leaders in support of coalition government operations. Chris Brice was bodyguard to General Sir Richard Dannatt (current commander of the British Army) during two separate UK Military operations in Kosovo and Bosnia.

Other Board members include the Chair, Dr Hartley Booth, a Barrister and Consultant to the Corporate Department of Pinsent Masons. Formerly special adviser to the Prime Minister on Law and Order Policy matters which included Police and security issues. Hartley is involved in international security matters and author of standard Extradition text books. He is Currently Chair of Uzbek British Trade & Industry Council, a Foreign Office/Department of Trade & Industry quango and Director of other companies.

The Right Honourable Sir John Wheeler JP DL served as MP Westminster North from 1979 - 1997. He was Chairman of the Home Affairs Select Committee from 1979 - 1992. He was Chairman of the National Criminal Intelligence Service and the National Crime Squad from 1997 - 2002. In 1993, Sir John was appointed a Member of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council and is a Deputy Lieutenant of Greater London. From 1993 -1997 he was Deputy Secretary of State for NI. Sir John was Chairman of the Government Review into airport security and policing within the UK, 2002 - 2003, and headed a review into airport security and policing for the Australian government in 2005. Sir John is a trustee of The Police Foundation and The Order of St John.

Charlie Taylor served in the British Army from 1996 - 2004, he commissioned from the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst in to the Royal Artillery. During his time in the British Army he was employed as a Troop Commander deploying to the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia as part of a multinational peacekeeping force. Moving from Germany to the Army Foundation College, Harrogate he was responsible for the leadership and management training of Army trainees. In 2002 he moved to the British Army's Unmanned Air Vehicle (UAV) Regiment as Operations Officer, he deployed with them to Iraq in early 2003 in an intelligence gathering role. Since leaving the Army in 2004 Charlie has been employed in Sales and Marketing.

Alex Scott-Barrett qualified as a chartered accountant with Coopers & Lybrand in 1981 and joined Cazenove, the leading City corporate stockbroker, in 1982. He worked initially as an analyst and transferred to the corporate finance department in 1986, becoming a partner of the firm in 1988. In 1996 he became a director of the firm's fund management division and from 2000-2003 was the Chief Operating Officer of that division. Alex left Cazenove in 2003, becoming non executive Chairman of Suffolk Life Group plc, a specialist pension administration business in August 2003 and non executive Chairman of General Capital Group plc in June 2004.

Insurance

Longmoor Group has one of the most comprehensive insurance packages in the Specialist Security Market. The level of our insurance cover was set after direction from the BBC High Risk Department. The following insurance cover which is placed on the London Lloyd's Insurance market includes:

Professional Indemnity Insurance: Up to GBP 2 million (this cover includes all forms of Political Violence including Terrorism, Insurgency and Civil War).

General Liability Insurance: Up to GBP 5 million.

Anyone employed by Longmoor Group is covered by our Employers' Liability Insurance: Up to GBP 10 million within the UK (GBP 5 million worldwide).

We provide Personal Accident Insurance Cover of GBP 250,000 for our consultants whatever the risk levels and wherever in the world that they are working.

Training

Our training department understands that relevant and regular training instils confidence in the individual's decision-making process, especially whilst operating under pressure. Longmoor Training understands that this is of paramount importance in preparing to meet modern security threats.

Longmoor has a wealth of experience in delivering specialist training to both military and civilian personnel worldwide. With an ethos of using only the finest personnel from the British Military or UK Police, Longmoor Training is ideally positioned to offer the most practical and comprehensive solutions to your training needs. As well as offering basic courses we are also able to offer tailored and modular packages to meet with your individual needs.

All of the courses that we offer have been accredited by either Buckinghamshire New University or Aset. Longmoor Group is registered, through our awarding body, to accept Enhanced Learning Credits. ELC funding is available for those people wishing to pursue higher level learning.

Longmoor Training has at its disposal a range of fully qualified, highly experienced trainers covering a vast array of Military and specialist subjects. All of our trainers are recruited from the British Army's Royal Military Police, Special Forces or Home Office Police and are experts in their field.

At Longmoor Training we pride ourselves in selecting the finest instructors from their fields to complement your needs. Our instructors have an in depth knowledge of their subjects honed on operations around the world, setting Longmoor apart from other training companies. Our training department instructors have the expertise to instruct civilian and military personnel at all levels and hold the relevant Military or Home Office Police training qualifications. Through our extensive network of instructors, Longmoor Group has the ability to deliver any security training package that is required to meet with the World's changing security threat.

Longmoor Training has access to many training facilities both in the UK and abroad. This enables us to provide clients with the most realistic training possible whilst never compromising on safety or security.

Students on the SIA CP course run in the UK and Slovenia (firearms phase) are accommodated well and the course boasts an enviable menu. The modern training complex comprises excellent range facilities for both long and short barrelled weapons. With equally modern classroom and practical assessment facilities, the location is ideally suited to the most professional subject delivery available.

In the UK, we utilise private and Crown land and facilities in the South of England for the majority of our enhanced driver training programmes. We also have conference facilities in central London to deliver more theory based courses to students.

In Thailand we have access to excellent security training facilities ideally suited to more intense SWAT style courses and advanced firearms programmes. Longmoor Training boasts one of the most advanced instructional "killing houses" in the world.

We have a reputation for never compromising on quality across the board - this includes all of our training facilities, where ever we train.

The quality of LG's training is proven with repeat customers such as providing coalition governments with anti-crime and anti-terror training for their Diplomatic and Locally Employed personnel in support of their B6 standard armoured (bulletproof) vehicles, all over the world.

Close Protection Training

Qualification: Buckinghamshire New University Level 3 Award (SIA accrediting)
Duration: Corporate Protection Course = 15 days
Hostile Environment Course = 5 days

By combining Longmoor Group's unique heritage of The Royal Military Police Close Protection Unit and the United Kingdom Police Close Protection we have devised a course that prepares you for work in unarmed commercial and armed hostile environments.

The training is not only aimed at ex-Forces candidates, but also at civilians wishing to enter the industry at the highest level. By keeping the course numbers to a minimum Longmoor Training ensures a high trainer pupil ratio, as a result we are very proud of our unique 100% pass rate.

Without exception, our trainers are all qualified and experienced in the fields they instruct and have all served with the world renowned Royal Military Police Close Protection Unit or UK Police Protection Units as instructors. The Royal Military Police are regarded as the world leaders in Close Protection. At Longmoor Group we are continually striving for perfection, one of our founders was instrumental in developing the first Protective Motoring Skills Course for the Royal Military Police's Close Protection Unit.

With a 30-year history of protecting British Royalty, World Leaders and UK Diplomatic staff around the world, Longmoor Group's Close Protection courses are second to none and are a Level 3 accredited course by Buckinghamshire New University allowing you to apply for UK Government's Security Industry Authority (SIA) license. The course is 3 weeks long and focuses on the following key elements:

- Threat and Risk Assessment
- Operational Planning
- Surveillance Awareness
- Close Protection Team Walking Drills
- Reconnaissance and Route Selection
- Search Awareness
- Past Incident Analysis
- Residential Security
- Unarmed Combat
- Protective Motoring Skills
- Specialist Weapon Techniques

- Communications and Conflict Management
- Individual Bodyguard Drills

All of The Longmoor Group's Close Protection trainers have been involved in training the Royal Guards in Bahrain, Saudi Arabia, UAE, and Qatar as well as in other countries outside the GCC. Utilising this experience Longmoor Group has the ability to deliver its market leading Close Protection course anywhere in the World.

Tactical Firearms

Qualification: Aset Level 2 Award
Duration: 5 Days

Combined weapon systems and multi target shoots are part of the Firearms and Tactics courses delivered by Longmoor Group. Ideally designed around small teams (6-10), the course takes the students back to the basics of small arms work and concentrates on individual weapon competencies before moving on to pairs fire and manoeuvre to full team drills. The course is suitable for those with no firearms experience and includes:

- Static Pistol
- Static SMG
- Use of Cover
- Turning and Firing
- Moving and Firing
- Individual Fire and Manoeuvre
- Dual Weapon Firing
- Pairs Fire and Manoeuvre
- Team Assault

Our Firearms courses are delivered by ex UK SAS and RMP Close Protection personnel. By combining the experiences of our instructors in both the operational and instructional environment around the world we are able to tailor a course to suit your exact needs.

Due to UK Firearms legislation we deliver this course in Slovenia. We have the capabilities to construct our own ranges and the deliver the course in any country where firearms laws allow.

Hostile Environment Awareness Training (HEAT)

Qualification: Aset Level 2 Award
Duration: 1-5 Days (depending on experience)

With so many areas of the world experiencing conflict and organised crime, individuals and groups deploying in support of conflict and post conflict scenarios require the correct training to adequately prepare them before entering these hostile environments. Most insurance companies now insist that in such circumstances, preparatory training is undertaken as a matter of course.

The training is given by ex members of the Royal Military Police who have experienced working in hostile environments with the British Foreign Commonwealth Office. The course is thorough and intense with an emphasis on promoting individual and team cohesion. The course is of a mainly practical nature, however all theory lessons are a pre-cursor. The basics of the course include;

- Introduction to Security
- Interpersonal skills
- Communications
- Driving skills
- Personal equipment
- Map reading
- Basic travel procedures
- Security of buildings
- Anti Ambush/Hijack skills
- Mines awareness
- Crisis management
- First Aid
- Working with close protection teams
- Stress and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder
- International Humanitarian law

The HEAT course has been designed to be tailored to specific regional needs or to the exact needs of an organisation or individual. This course is flexible enough to be delivered anywhere in the world where the threat levels allow. The average length of the courses is 3-5 days, with a day course being offered as a refresher.

Defence and Military Special Forces Training

Longmoor Group has a wealth of experience training a wide variety of defence forces, including Special Forces overseas and international Government agencies. Defence force training ranges from 1 week training packages to instruct topics such as search techniques or defensive driving, to several month-long projects, recruiting, selecting and training teams and individuals for specialist military or defence duties and tasks.

Longmoor Group has the resources to compile training teams to meet the criteria of any form of defence training. As with all Longmoor training, the instructors will be qualified, experienced and experts in their fields, ensuring the highest possible level of training and mentoring.

The defence training capability has previously covered the following topics, which have either been delivered as individual modules or as complete training packages:

- Basic infantry training: covering basic field craft, map reading, battle field first aid, fitness, individual weapons training and basic communications.
- Patrolling and Standard Operating Procedures (SOP's): Advanced navigation, physical endurance training, receipt and delivery of orders, contact drills, patrolling tactics, obstacle crossings and minefield clearance.
- Advanced trauma medicine: tailored to the operating environment of the course, be it urban surveillance or close protection work where the emphasis is on immediate life support, or long range SF roles where the focus is on remote emergency care and evacuation.
- Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape (SERE): essential for specialist military units, or personnel operating in hostile territory. The module covers wilderness survival, camouflage techniques and resistance to interrogation methods.
- Mission planning: Particularly important for leadership and management roles for all types of operation; this teaches tactical and strategic planning and follows it through to teach orders structure and delivery.
- Weapons training: Covering specialist and support weapons for individual use and to achieve group effects.

- Dynamic intervention: The complete package as taught to UK SF and Home Office dynamic intervention teams, the 6 week course encompassing mission planning, live firearms, entry techniques and clearance drills.
- Covert Rural Operations Procedures (CROPS): Teaching specialist surveillance and observation, this module covers observation posts, photography, covert electronic communications and counter surveillance measures.

Advanced Protective Motoring Skills

Qualification: Aset Level 3 Award
Duration: 3-5 days (depending on experience)

The highest cause of injury to personnel and damage to equipment remains the road traffic accident. High Networth Individuals and VVIPs are most susceptible to the threat of kidnap or petty crime whilst they are driving.

Longmoor Group's enhanced driving course is designed around the modern threat, either from criminals or terrorists and contains the most current teaching practices for today's specialist driver. This course continually evolves in response to the changing modus operandi of the individuals or groups that constitute a significant threat to the client.

Longmoor Group investigates all attacks on VIP vehicles and convoys from around the world and even interviews survivors of the attacks in order to formulate a measured analysis and transferring the "lessons learnt" into the course content:

- Theory / Vehicle Dynamics
- Assessment Drives (including night driving)
- Safe Driving Techniques (including Embus and Debus drills)
- High Speed Driving
- Anti-Ambush Techniques

The Longmoor Group's highly qualified and experienced ex Royal Military Police instructors ensure that we maintain the market lead in Advanced Protective Motoring Skills and VIP vehicle procedures. One of Longmoor Group's founders was instrumental in developing the first Protective Motoring Skills Course for the Royal Military Police's Close Protection Unit.

Longmoor Group has the skill to tailor courses to your needs, be them of a commercial nature operating in a benign environment or preparing your drivers for work in hostile environments. This package can be delivered in any part of the world and we have recently trained members of foreign governments in areas such as Nigeria, Islamabad, Dhaka, Dubai and Indonesia.

The Protective Motoring Courses are on average 3-5 days long, but are dependent on experience and threat in the your area of operation. 1 day refreshers are also offered as an essential part of reducing skill fade. By successfully completing our 3 day course you are able to gain an accredited professional qualification.

Terrorist Awareness Training

It has been widely commented that terrorism is going to increase and affect us in our lifetime and for at least a generation or more. This will have a huge impact in the way we live our day to day lives, the economy of the country together with a strain on our law enforcement and security agencies and public services.

Longmoor Group has been instrumental in developing the first commercial UK Terrorism Awareness Course. The course has been designed to give individuals and organisations an insight in to the terrorists mind, allowing delegates to positively identify potential suspect devices and then control the scene minimising risk to their colleagues and maintain business continuity.

The course has been designed using the most experienced Military and Police instructors in this field, who have 38 years experience of terrorist actions, from the troubles in Northern Ireland to today's international terrorist threat. Our instructors have advised the UK government on all aspects of terrorist explosive techniques and trends. The course includes:

- Explosive Capabilities
- Improvised Explosive Device (IED) Construction
- IED Recognition
- IED Mechanics
- Search Techniques
- Reactions on Finding a Suspect device
- Command and Control
- Crisis Management
- Inter Agency Liaison

This course has also been tailored for those people who visit countries where mines/ ordnance have been used or for large corporate clients who feel business continuity may be affected form terrorist/ extremist action. The course varies from 1-5 days in length depending on the threat and search techniques required for your specific needs. The course can be delivered in any part of the world.

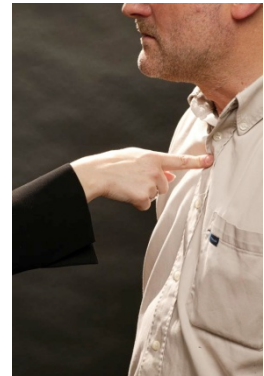

Conflict Resolution Management

Qualification: Aset Level 2 Award (depending on course length)
Duration: 1-3 days

Health and Safety Legislation in the UK states that employers must carry out risk assessments to identify hazards that exist in their workplace including the risk of violence, and take steps to mitigate those risks identified.

Longmoor Group recognises that in order for organisations to mitigate risk to their employees and their operational output, they must have a robust and effective Risk Reduction Strategy that prepares them to be able to prevent and manage work related violence.

Longmoor Group will train and assist in the implementation of a successful management and prevention strategy for violent and aggressive behaviour. By assisting you in creating an integrated organisational response we will be able to safe guard the health and wellbeing of your employees whilst at the same time reducing the liability of your organisation.

The skills and knowledge used in actually dealing with violent and aggressive behaviour then become emergency procedures instead of daily routines.

Longmoor Group has the ability to deliver their Conflict Resolution Management Course at any location in around the world.

Medical Training

Qualification:

Duration: 1-3 days

Longmoor Training utilises some of the most experienced medical instructors in the civilian market. Our instructors have served within the British Military's Special Forces and have experience of operating in remote and hostile environments.

Our instructors will enable you to deal casualties who have suffered injuries from gun shots, burns, road traffic accidents as well as HSE compliance courses. They will also teach you maintain a person's survivability in areas where the response times of the emergency services are poor or casualty evacuation has to take place.

Longmoor Training's courses are designed for individuals, groups and organisations that have a requirement to work in hostile or remote locations around the world. The courses vary in length depending on the area that you or your staff would be operating and the likely injuries that may be incurred.

Our medical training can be delivered as a stand alone package or designed to compliment another package. We are able to deliver these in any part of the world.

Dynamic Intervention Training

Qualification: Longmoor Group Certificated Award
Duration: 6 weeks

Longmoor Training's Dynamic Intervention Course has been developed by current and former members of the UK Special Forces and Civilian Police. Using expertise gained from many years of operational experience in this highly dangerous and complex discipline.

Our Instructors have combined modern anti-terrorist techniques with case studies of previous incidents worldwide to produce a course that is current, comprehensive and challenging.

Combining some of the most realistic live firearms training and entry techniques available anywhere in the world, Longmoor Training's Dynamic Intervention courses enable personnel to enter even the most hostile situations, in the absolute confidence that they have received the very best training available in today's market place.

This course is a 6 week course that is run from our Dynamic Intervention Training facility in the UK or Thailand and is aimed at governments. This course can be delivered in any part of the world as long as there are suitable facilities. We also offer this as a train the trainer package and are able to consult in the development of your own training facility.

Surveillance Course

Qualification:

Duration: 28 days

With all criminal and terrorist activity comes the need to gather intelligence. The more intelligence gathered, the more the likelihood of conviction or lead to perpetrators in the upper echelon of crime and terrorism. The Longmoor Group's Surveillance course is the market lead in current covert intelligence gathering techniques and is delivered by some of the UK's best instructors, government advisers and leading experts in this field.

The course design enables students to master the basics of static surveillance before progressing through foot drills and mobile disciplines. It culminates in a live test exercise where students will have to demonstrate a thorough understanding of all aspects of surveillance in a realistic and challenging environment. The training is further enhanced with lessons on legal issues and the law in relation to evidence gathering and photography.

The Surveillance course covers the following criteria:

- Urban Observation Posts
- Rural Observation Posts

Our teams are carefully selected in consultation with the client, ensuring that they and the client are able to work in close proximity with limited hindrance to the lifestyle of the person we are protecting. All of our clients have direct access to Longmoor Group's Operations Director, Mick Hanley, for advice and consultation regarding sensitive security issues and concerns.

Utilising our immediate response team Longmoor Group has the ability to deploy a single operator or Personal Security Detail to any part of the world within 24 hours (visas and flights permitting) and 12 hours within the UK.

Protection Drivers

Within the current security climate, the most significant threat to our clients remains injuries received as a result of road traffic accidents.

Longmoor Group employs highly trained drivers, who have a wealth of experience in the protective driving role. All of whom have operational experience with UK Police or UK Royal Military Police. Our staff are not chauffeurs, but highly trained police drivers who are able to protect you against a threat to you or your family.

Our driver's skills have been honed supporting government and commercial operations both in UK and abroad in some of the most hostile environments around the world. Our drivers have honed their extensive skills whilst protecting some of the British Foreign & Commonwealth Office's most respected diplomats whilst working in hostile environments.

Our drivers can deploy as part of a Personal Security Detail (PSD) or as individuals to meet our clients needs. We are able to deploy protection drivers' world wide within 24 hours (visas and flights permitting) and within the UK within 12 hours.

High Risk Escorts

Whether you are transporting precious stones, antiques, classified documents or sensitive IT material, they are all likely to be targeted by the ever expanding criminal element. Longmoor Group offers an insured overt and covert protection for high-risk valuable goods at both static locations and during transportation either in the UK or overseas.

We provide detailed survey reports, analysis and risk assessments giving the client a clear understanding of the possible security threat of moving items. Utilising UK Home Office and UK Armed Forces experience from worldwide Close Protection and logistical operations, The Group manages the covert movement of sensitive cargo and information on behalf of the client.

Our teams are able to deploy around the world with 24 hours (visas and flights permitting) and within UK within 12 hours.

Surveillance

Longmoor Group offers our clients a covert surveillance package that utilises UK Home Office and UK Armed Forces personnel who have a wealth of experience in human surveillance using foot and mobile teams and technical surveillance using electronic devices.

Our surveillance specialists are able to carry out searches of your premises, commercial or residential, for hidden electronic bugging devices.

Our surveillance personnel are hand picked for each task ensuring that they fit in with the operating environment and meet with the clients needs. Both our male and female personnel are trained to the highest standard in Counter Surveillance and have advised Longmoor Group's clients that they may be a victim of a physical or electronic surveillance threat.

If you require an in depth case file to be gathered for fraudulent claimants, matrimonial or corporate proceedings, then let Longmoor Group provide you with a comprehensive and envied surveillance or counter surveillance solution tailored to individual needs. Our specialists have effectively supported some of the world's largest organisations during times of heightened threat or hostile takeover.

We are able to deploy a surveillance team anywhere in the world within 24 hours (visas and flights permitting) and within 12 hours within the UK.

Investigations/ Private Investigators

Longmoor Security & Protection's Military and Civilian Police heritage is evident in the range of specialist policing services at our disposal.

Our extensive use of highly trained investigative experts is drawn from the UK Civilian Police Criminal Investigation Department (CID) and the Royal Military Police Special Investigation Branch (SIB), many of whom are also UK Home Office Scenes of Crime (SOCO) qualified. In conjunction with our specialist security teams, our investigators are able to travel around the globe, including many countries considered as no go areas.

Investigations are carried out in accordance with current UK policing guidelines never compromising best evidence procedure and where possible utilising the knowledge and assistance of local law enforcement partners. All this is achieved while being ever mindful of local cultural and religious sensitivities.

Risk Management

Longmoor Risk Management is a specialist risk consultancy. We provide advice and services that enable you to accelerate opportunities and manage strategic and operational risks.

Longmoor Risk Management delivers a cost effective and pragmatic consultancy service that adds value for our clients. Most importantly, our consultancy enables clients to conduct their business whilst protecting their assets.

Our team is selected from the finest consultants in the industry to proactively prevent loss, control threats and mitigate risk. Our network of offices allows Longmoor Risk Management to give our clients a truly World Wide coverage for all their risk management needs

Security Risk Analysis/ Penetration Tests

In response to the increased tempo of global terrorist operations Longmoor Group has developed a specialist department that assess an organisations security profile and threat vulnerabilities from terrorism or sabotage.

Longmoor Group employs its team of highly trained ex-military planners and analysts to assess the weakness of the clients' security strategy, operational plans and existing protective security measures; devising tactics to breach and defeat them, in the same way that a terrorist might. This service is delivered by conducting a comprehensive Security Risk Analysis and security penetration or planning test exercise. After which we will advise the client on issues that may affect their organisations business continuity or incident management plans.

The Group hand picks its staff from the highly regarded UK Special Forces and Military Intelligence Units, all of whom have expert knowledge and experience in breaching security systems, often in hostile environments. No other organisation can offer its clients this level of bespoke and expert insight into the effectiveness of their security profile.

Longmoor Group has the capabilities from its Policing background to conduct Residential Security Surveys of private residence and from its links with the Special Forces we are able to conduct Security Analysis of corporate installations and buildings.

Audits and Security Plans

Longmoor group offer a consultancy service designed to arm clients with the professional knowledge needed for the creation of a safe and secure environment for both their personnel and their assets.

Security audits are conducted by individual specialist risk consultants or consultancy teams who have been recruited for their operational experience, training and broad range of backgrounds which encompass the military and police as well as government and civilian organisations. This breadth of knowledge gives Longmoor Group an enormous flexibility in the tasks they are able to undertake, ensuring the appropriate expertise of the consultants are matched to the client's needs.

Security audits can be undertaken on any facility or operation anywhere in the world, and they are structured to provide the client with a complete understanding of the threat, the risks and vulnerabilities to their operation and a recommended security plan, which will combine physical security measures with doctrinal procedures such as emergency response or evacuation plans. Longmoor Group has extensive experience working in public and private sector organisations and has expertise in aviation and maritime operations, as well as land based facilities in both familiar and hostile environments on, and off-shore.

Should the client require a professional oversight or implementation of the recommended security plan, and or subsequent security project management, Longmoor Group has a Special Projects department established for precisely this nature of task.

Business Intelligence

Longmoor Risk Management department keeps a constant check on events as they occur across the globe. Through a combination of in-country and London-based research, we identify key emerging sources of risks to assets, personnel and business markets. Our bespoke services provide you with in-depth, tailor-made intelligence and analysis to help them predict and manage risk.

Longmoor Risk Management's team of analysts have experience of building an intelligence picture that looks at political, economic, social and technological events that may affect the way your business performs.

Our reports provide a medium to long-term quantitative view of either the general in country situation or they can be tailored to assess non-conventional risks on a country-specific and sector-specific basis. As well as highlighting the issues our reports provide recommendations to enable your business to continue with minimum disruption.

By keeping abreast destabilising factors such as terrorist activity, civil unrest and political instability we are able to consider risks on a short term basis to complement your urgent projects.

Longmoor Risk Management's team of analysts also provides the following risk management service

- non fraud due diligence
- fraud risk assessments
- pre-employment screening

Post Traumatic Stress Syndrome (PTSD)

Longmoor Risk Management has taken the market lead in Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) and has pioneered a policy that is specific to organisations that send their employees to hostile or high risk environments.

The policy has been validated by a leading MOD medical consultant on PTSD and qualified as defensible by a leading City law firm. By incorporating UK Legislation, UK Common Law, current UK Case Law, European Court of Justice Rulings, together with EU Policy and directions and our experts have developed this policy to mitigate risk to employers.

It does not provide a cure for those affected by PTSD, but if implemented and actively promoted throughout your organisation it will;

- Reduce the amount of personal injury claims made against your organisation.
- Reduce the success of claims made against your organisation.
- Attract lower insurance premiums
- Reduce the financial implications of high staff turnover through illness from PTSD or related illnesses.

This unique package offered by Longmoor Risk Management includes the following;

- The policy
- A tailored and accredited management awareness training package
- An understanding of the promotion and implementation of the policy
- Psychological Risk Assessments
- Tailored pre deployment training
- Normalisation after deployment
- Audits of your organisations implementation and promotional procedures
- Traumatic Incident Management training for selected staff.
- Policy specific health insurance cover provided by one of the world leaders in health cover/insurance.

Special Projects

Longmoor Special Projects was developed to provide our larger clients with a complete security solution. By bringing together Longmoor Risk Management, Longmoor Training and Longmoor Security & Protection, Special projects are able to lead your security solutions from inception through to implementation to continual assessment and update.

Drawing from the knowledge of experts within our other departments and from the wider security industry we are able to tackle some of the most complex security issues in today's world.

Special Projects have been instrumental in developing and running a large staff training centre for a multi-national commercial organisation. Longmoor Special Projects have also assisted National governments in developing training strategies for private and government security personnel.

Special Projects offer a unique total security solution for commercial organisations, governments and individuals, who need to combat or prevent threats in the modern world.
